LEAVE THE WINEMAKING TO US...

Our goal is to make a memorable, accessible Chardonnay from the beloved Russian River Valley in Sonoma County. Russian River Chardonnays are celebrated for being fruit-forward yet balanced. In the winery, 20% of this wine was barrel-fermented, while 80% was fermented in stainless steel. The wine was then aged for 10 months in French oak, 50% new. This enhances the integration of toasted oak while creating a rounder texture, especially noticeable in the creamy finish, while refreshing acidity adds lift and balance.

VINTAGE The 2025 growing season in Sonoma County was defined by steady winter rains followed by a mild summer without major heat spikes. In the Russian River Valley, cooler conditions supported a long, even ripening period, allowing Chardonnay to develop expressive fruit while retaining refreshing acidity and structure. The resulting wines display freshness, balance, and a layered expression of this coastal-influenced region.
